Maiden Speech By Tory Leader Raps Government

which was shorter than usually made by party leaders in the House of Commons.

His voice carried well in the chamber and almost a full attendance of members listened to him.

SPECIFIC POINTS

Specifically, he had these things to say:

1. There must be a discontinuance of "dictatorial methods" of secrecy in matters of public concern.
2. The government by order-in-council rather than by parliament.
3. Economic controls necessitated by shortages must be removed as shortages disappear.
4. If most rationing was necessary the government was to blame for it because it allowed food production to decline.
5. There would be "widespread resentment and bitterness" if the budget did not bring "substantial relief from the burden of wartime taxation."

6. "We will support all reasonable measures to increase the general volume of international trade and Canada's share."

7. The opposition would support the United Nations monetary agreement.

WILL FOR PEACE NEED

While the opposition leader commended the United Nations charter, he pointed out that it could not be gained by signatures on a page. It will be peace on the part of the United Nations which is necessary.

On external trade, he was critical of the three-year plan for not setting out concrete measures instead of generalities. He said that the government was in mind for restoring normal trade with Britain, increasing trade with the United States, South America and other countries and participating in the development of undeveloped areas.

One of the strongest advocates of the revision of Dominion-Provincial financial relations during his speech was premier of Manitoba, Mr. Bracken.

He criticized the proposal that the provinces share 50 per cent of the proceeds from the new tax. He said that the provinces should have 10 per cent of the proceeds from the new tax.

The closing down of the raffie, as far as was known.

Upon receipt of this information, Mr. Jaeger issued instructions for the ticket booth to reopen and the raffie is proceeding again, it was stated.

"Ticket-holders can be assured that we will continue the contest," Mr. Jaeger said.

"The cause is most worthy," he said. "We have an investment of $12,000. We have also been having trouble with getting the Municipal Chapter of the IODE, and the South Side branch of the Canadian Legion are also continuing with their projects."

No Date Yet Set For Ending Meat Rationing in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Government food officials said today that no date has yet been set for termination of meat rationing in the United States.

With cattle marketings increasing seasonally, supplies of meat, especially beef and veal, are improving. At the Office of Price Administration it was said, however, that supplies have not yet increased sufficiently to warrant ending of rationing.

There has been speculation that meat rationing would end Oct. 1 and sides of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said that may be possible, but no agreement has been reached between the agriculture department and the OPA.

"We have an investment of $12,000. We have also been having trouble with getting the Municipal Chapter of the IODE, and the South Side branch of the Canadian Legion are also continuing with their projects."

Meat Ration Re-Introduced in Canada Today

A Canadian ration book will be used for rationing purposes, with each coupon having a value ranging from one to three pounds of meat per person per week depending on the type of meat purchased.

The new ration plan will be basically the same as during the previous rationing period, with these changes:

1. Meat coupons are being introduced on the basis of eight tickets for one coupon. This permits the purchase to split his coupon and use part of it one time and the rest another time.

2. Fancy and canned meats are included in the new ration.

3. Changes have been made in the coupon values of different cuts. Beef and pork have been divided into groups for rationing purposes with values as follows:

Group "A" (one pound a coupon) Includes cured hock, pork, corned beef, side beef, salted, and cooked pork and ham.

Group "B" (two pounds a coupon) Includes beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "C" (three pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "D" (four pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "E" (five pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "F" (six pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "G" (seven pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "H" (eight pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "I" (nine pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Group "J" (ten pounds a coupon) Includes fresh beef, pork, veal, lamb, chicken, duck, turkey, and fish.

Court Decrees Death Sentence For V. Quisling

The jury of three supreme court judges and four civilians was unanimous and it also ordered Quisling's fortune, totaling 100,000 kroner (approximately $200,000), forfeited to the state.

In pronouncing sentence Justice Solberg said it had been proved conclusively that Quisling dealt with the Nazis before the German invasion of Norway on April 9, 1940, and had betrayed his country's military defenses in exchange for money and the premiership.

Quisling was found guilty of treason, assistance to the enemy, murder—in connection with the deaths of the Norwegian killed by the Nazis occupying forces—embezzlement and other crimes.

Under the new law making the death penalty in Norway, the sentence will be executed by firing squad composed of 10 soldiers who will be blindfolded.

Under the law Quisling can appeal to the supreme court which will continue the sentence but cannot reverse it.

The presiding judge at Quisling's trial, however, was Erik Solen who also is a supreme court justice and thus one of the group which would pass on any appeal.

Quisling is held for transport, giving evidence in other war crimes cases, it is likely the sentence will be carried out within three weeks.

URGENT NAZI INVASION

Quisling, 58, was a major in the Norwegian army and a former defense minister. The prosecution during the three weeks trial accused him of meeting Hitler, Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and other high German officials in December, 1939, and urging them to invade Norway.

He was charged with turning over Norwegian defense data to the Germans, and on the day of invasion, April 9, 1940, it was charged he went to the government offices in Oslo and signed orders to resist the Nazis.

At this point it appeared as though McCallum had his temper and a heated argument followed which provoked McCallum into shouting her in the spot, one police officer said.

Three small sons, Gordon, Kenneth and Douglas, ages four, five and six years respectively, are being cared for by neighbors.

SEEMED DEVOTED

"I don't understand it at all," said Mrs. P. Dumas, who lives across the street from the McCallum home. "She was such a darling mother."

Her husband, who was a police officer, was killed in the attack on the McCallum home.

Other neighbors described the McCallums as friendly and congenial and said they never heard any disagreements or noise from the household. Most of the neighbors said they were not sure of the murder until questioned by the police.

An inquest will be held by Mrs. McCallum's death this week.

Physical Fitness

Jan Eisenhardt, national director of physical fitness for the federal department of health, has been discussing in Edmonton the proposal for the establishment of summer camps for youths in the Canadian national parks.

Alberta, he has pointed out, is one of six provinces participating in a plan under which the federal government is distributing $225,000 for a physical fitness campaign. Alberta's share is $35,500 which will be matched, dollar for dollar, by the provincial government under the scheme.

This national program for physical fitness is of first rate importance.
The medical report of the year shows that the war has how badly Canadian youth needs healthful exercise in times of peace.

But there is another point to be given careful consideration when the authorities are mapping out such pretentious plans.
That point is whether or not some military training should be included in the curricula of the projected camps.

The present and future security of democracy rests upon only one thing—the armed might of democracy. The world must contain many more will and vengeance and ambitious plans of vain and greedy men. Our safety, then, is not guaranteed by our military strength, but by our army or by anything else than our ability to make war effectively.

That is a tragic fact that must be faced, and it was with this in mind that of folly to plan any course of training for young men that does not contain at least a smattering of training in the science of armed defence.

A Good Investment

Mr. George Spence, head of the federal reclamation branch, has estimated that $111,000,000 would be required to expand and complete the job of reclamation in dry areas in the west. If his estimate is anywhere near the mark, the gain will be cheap at the price. The areas which in recent years have been suffering from drought brought more than this amount of wheat-money into Canada in a single year before the dry cycle struck them.

Rehabilitation has been going on for several years, with results which show that it is practicable and worthwhile. It began necessarily as an experiment more or less. The dammed rivers, the straightened levees, the planting of shelter belts, the establishment of pasture areas, these have been shown to be a long way to the set against rainfall and make farming possible where it had formerly been hopeless in dry years.

Enough has been achieved through these measures to show that a wide-scale restoration of productivity is possible in the drought-stricken districts. Quite enough to demonstrate that the "dry belt" is not an area of hopelessness where self-supporting agriculture cannot be carried on. The figure cited or twice the amount would be a great investment if it secured throughout the increased grain produces already secured in other localities.

Lend-Lease "Debts"

President Truman suggests that the United States write off lend-lease "debts" of war partners. The gross amount is more than forty billions of dollars. Lend-lease worked both ways to some degree, and there are contra charges which may cut down the total by a few billions.

Something in the nature of a general liquidation of such wartime borrowings and lendings is necessary. It should be liquidation in which dollars and goods will not be the only items taken into account.
Some consideration must, for example, be due to Britain, which with the Dominion fought Germany for a whole year and cut down the total by a few billions.

due to Britain, which with the Dominion
fought Germany for a whole year and
cut down the total by a few billions.

The war was a gigantic venture into which the Allies were thrust by circumstances beyond their control. None of them made anything out of the struggle.
All of them suffered terrible losses. A resounding and just condemnation of those losses is due, and can be made only in the light of all the circumstances and in the spirit of mutual helpfulness which carried us to victory.

Several German officers were arrested at Japanese resort town along with Meisinger, the Nazi official who was charged with the killing of thousands of British troops. Hitler was not among the ringleaders but does not protest that he and Eva are not hiding somewhere among the "trained ape", as Adolf once described the Japanese.

Despite the discharge of a half million troops from war plants in recent months, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell says there are more than a hundred thousand vacant jobs registered at the employment office for which applicants are waiting.
Thus far the labor readjustment process seems to be going favorably. A surplus of unfilled jobs is a healthy sign.

Quisling described himself as an Oslo court as an "apostle of peace." About the same time Kurosawa, Tokyo's ambassador, extraordinary, was saying he felt "hurt" because he was called a traitor. He was not hurt because he was called a traitor.
Washington officials say peace talkers about as much as the other.

BY ALAN HARRIS
TORONTO, Sept. 10.—(CP)—The Vancouver Daily Province started something when it printed a story about a member of the Vancouver Swimming Club who had become an accomplished swimmer at four years of age. Immediately, the newspaper was deluged by mail and telephone with reports of pre-adolescent swimmers who swam at even younger ages. From across the land, letters came from a young lady who had been swimming at three.

At four, she could swim, she said, swim on her back, had, had water and swimmer, swim with varying success.

Gus Ryder, coach of a Toronto swimming club, went that one better when he published the names of two-year-olds David Hughes, his achievements in the water weren't detailed, but his parents, Ryder, claimed, David tops in his division.

In Calgary, hockey revival is under way with the Calgary Buffalo Athletic Association to acquire the local franchise in the city. The association, which will call its entry Buffalo or Mustangs, will enter teams in the divisions starting with Bantams and working through to senior competition.

Chicago Black Hawks are reported to have signed Gordie Rounan, the 16-year-old junior who had three National Hockey League teams, bidding for his services. Rounan was signed by Cleveland, who released him when they found he had not yet reached his 16th birthday. When Rounan finally became of

Secrets Bared

13 Countries Aligned
With Nazi Gestapo
Pre-War Agreements

By DANIEL DE LUKE

Copyright, 1946, by The Associated Press

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A report received Sunday from Nazi files pictured secret pre-war agreements between the Gestapo and the political police of 13 countries for the common purpose of quelling "Communism" and other movements "dangerous to the state."

The 13 countries were listed as: Brazil, Poland, Belgium, Holland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Italy, Japan, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Portugal and Spain.

A secret report bearing the signature of "The Hangman," Richard Heydrich, and addressed to Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering claimed the existence of this international co-operation, spanning three continents, having a year before the war broke out in 1939. Heydrich, later assassinated, was at that time the chief of the German secret police (security police).

CLANDESTINE CO-OPERATION

Six of the powers named as engaged in clandestine "co-operation" with the Gestapo were listed as: Brazil, Poland, Belgium, Holland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Italy, Japan, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Portugal and Spain.

The document, taken from files the Gestapo failed to destroy during the last hours of Berlin, listed seven other powers as "co-operating." Five of these were drawn formally into the conflict on Germany's side—Italy, Japan, Bulgaria, Finland and Hungary. The others were Portugal and Spain.

In addition the report said that co-operation with Argentina and Uruguay was in an "initial stage," and commented that especially good relations were enjoyed with Denmark and Romania.

Heydrich, who reached the heights of infamy in his role of Nazi protector of Bohemia and Moravia, sent his report to Goering in the latter's role as Prussian premier. Heydrich was assassinated in June, 1942, and Goering is awaiting trial as a war criminal.

REVEALING LETTER
Heydrich's covering letter, bearing his own crisscrossed signature in blue ink, was dated Aug. 22, 1938, and was stamped by Goering's office as received two days later.

While Hitler was a quelling Czechoslovakia in the greatest black-and-white scheme of pre-war times, preparing to destroy his Russian ally, Heydrich wrote Goering assuring him of having had "notable successes" with Germany's anti-communist police forces.

His letter said:

"I am enclosing for your information a brief report concerning present conditions of co-operation between the secret state police (Gestapo) and the political police of foreign countries.

NEW STAMP HONORS G.I. JOE—A new khaki-colored 3-cent stamp, pictured above, honoring the U.S. Army, will go on sale in Washington, Sept. 28, according to Postmaster General Robert Hannegan. Depicted are thousands of Army troops marching through Arc de Triomphe, Paris, while bombers fly in formation overhead.

Insofar as written agreements were made with foreign police, they correspond to the attached form, number two, with insignificant differences.

"Of all the countries named to enclose one—with the exception of Romania—authorized police representatives have been guests of the German police in Germany."

The meeting of police representatives of 14 countries in Germany in August-September, 1937, brought about a personal contact between police leaders, laying a solid foundation for favorable development of international co-operation of political police.

"Several notable successes have been achieved," he wrote.

"I believed that as a result of favorable experiences thus far in absolutely necessary to continue the international police co-operation further on this line. Heil Hitler!"

Heydrich.

B.C. Government
Asking Delay
Council Appeal

VICTORIA, Sept. 16.—(CP)—

The British Columbia government has asked the Federal government to postpone until next summer argument on whether the Dominion has the right to abolish appeal to the privy council.

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland said recently he had been asked by P. P. Varcoe, deputy minister of justice, if he was ready to argue the problem now and in reply Mr. Maitland asked postponement.

The supreme court had ruled that the Dominion had the right to abolish appeal to the privy council by resolution of the House of Commons. The provinces, Mr. Maitland said, "take the opposite view," holding that the Dominion government lacks the jurisdiction and that if appeal is to be abolished it must be by amendment of the British North America Act.

The point is not whether appeal to the privy council should be abolished or not, but who has the right to abolish it," said Mr. Maitland. He expressed the belief all the provinces would participate in the argument.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined although Fire Chief William Fitzgerald announced the arrest at the scene of a man carrying a machine gun stuffed with paper and matches. He was booked without charge.

Urge to Rule Domestic Roosts Cause of Woe

Desire to Boss Everyone About Us Seems to be the Universal Instinct of Every Human Being, and It Is What Gives Wars and Divorce

Perhaps we are all tyrants and dictators at heart. Anyway, the desire to boss everyone about us seems to be the universal instinct of every human being, and it is what gives us wars and divorce and family feuds and juvenile delinquency and all manner of evil and unpleasantness.

Take marriage, for instance. What makes so many marriages fail? That should be a simple question. When a young couple who love each other and who are fine, decent, upright people get married, can't they live in peace and harmony with each other? The answer is because each is determined to rule the other and when the marriage is made, the husband comes in contact with a rival for his civil war.

In the great majority of marriages the fight over who is going to be the head of the household begins before the bride and groom have even been married. The struggle is over who is going to be the head of the household, and the struggle is over who is going to be the head of the household.

It is what makes so many men refuse to give their wives an allowance which is not the house. They know that they will not be able to do it, and they know that they will not be able to do it.

Just before the summer national tournament, I got Oswald Jacoby's card to visit him and I did not take him long to get back on the list of "lost" players. When the war broke out in 1941, Jacoby was playing in the "lost" category.

Burkwood, Va. He and his partner were right up among the leaders, but Jacoby dropped out and returned to Washington, and has since served with the Navy over seas.

The world championship match between Jacoby and his team-mate, Howard Schenker, T. A. Lightner, Sam R. Jr., and Edward Hyman Jr. This is a hot point knockout event between two top players.

"SEPARATES" STRETCH WARDROBE—Mix- and-match clothes, jackets, shorts, slacks and ensemble suits which can be broken down will outfit the boys this fall in a fair way to make classmates' eyes widen in surprise. For example, in an 11-year-old's wardrobe, the vest, interest suit, centre, with the matching Glen plaid waistcoat and navy shorts can team with other old pieces.

Dress-up toys, like the banker's striped gray flannel suit, right, can be broken down and built up once the 8-year old is in his wardrobe. Another inspiration is the ultra, extreme left, styled like a winter-defying windbreaker. Made of tan gabardine, the coat is covered with jackson lamb and has for inner warmth a sheepskin lining and quilted red suede.

Knights of Columbus Banquet Hails Villeneuve's Edmonton Visit

More than 300 guests from Edmonton and district, different parts of the Dominion and from the United States were present at a banquet honoring the visit of His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve by the Knights of Columbus, Fourth Degree General Assembly, Sunday night at the Macdonald hotel. The cardinal held Mass Monday on a visit to southern parts of the province after which he will enter Thursday for Quebec.

Replying to preceding complimentary addresses of welcome delivered by His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, acting premier, C. E. Gerhart, acting mayor, M. Downey, Hon. Mr. Justice Frank Ford, chancellor, University of Alberta, The Most Rev. John Hugh Macdonald, DD, archbishop of Edmonton, Cardinal Villeneuve said, "I am very greatly honored by this gathering and deeply moved by the warm expressions of thanks to the men and women of Edmonton and district after which he will enter Thursday for Quebec."

SECOND VISIT

This was the second visit of the cardinal to Edmonton within a period of nine years, he said, and from the nature of his welcome on this occasion, as on the last, he expressed thanks to the men and women of Edmonton and district. Speaking on behalf of the faith of which he is the symbol, he said in Canada, Cardinal Villeneuve said, "It seems to me we have the respect and love of everyone's province and we appreciate also in the effort to strengthen the bonds of unity of this great country, provinces cannot be independent."

"I may say that I sometimes think that to try to split the province is a 'sin' against the cardinal, and although those responsible for such actions may not realize it, the results are nevertheless a great disservice to their country."

In a former address he was referred to warmly as a statesman and churchman. He said he was a statesman, especially as this application implies the political. I think I am a churchman in Canada and I want only to speak in the principles of my faith. His Eminence stressed a return to the solidarity of the family, which, augmented with a sincere faith in the love of God, was the only indestructible temporal foundation of a Christian society in brotherhood and peace.

"We are trying to find a new order and I say a new order cannot exist without justice and charity and conscience and without God you cannot have conscience," the cardinal continued.

EXHORTS DEVOUTS

The cardinal exhorted members of the Catholic faith gathered at the meeting to be true to their church and to their faith. Sincerely and fidelity would not only bring them peace and comfort, but would raise them to vital integral parts of a Christian society in brotherhood and peace.

To other members of the audience the cardinal said: "For the welfare of society the church—our church—should be more well known." "It is not only a religious doctrine," continued the cardinal, "it is a rational, reasonable doctrine, well organized and sincere—not alone for the rich, nor for the poor, but for the common good of all, based on three principles of virtue: virtue to God, to the church and to society."

During his Edmonton visit the cardinal had noticed an observance on the part of the press which, he said, had given him much pleasure. "The Catholic press and perhaps Quebec do not ask anything more," said the cardinal.

The cardinal stated that within a few weeks there would be an assembly of bishops and archbishops in Quebec, at which time there would be a high Pontifical Mass in the cathedral and the victory of our fighting forces and to seek his blessing for the establishment and continuance of peace on earth.

As the first bishop of the diocese of Greyhound, Villeneuve, at the age of 49 was elevated to the appointment of Canada's cardinal and has been for 12 years the spiritual head of the Roman Catholic faith in Canada.

TO VISIT MEXICO

A statement by the Rev. Fr. Paul Nioque, secretary to Cardinal Villeneuve, revealed that early in October the cardinal and other leaders of the Roman Catholic church would leave for Mexico to attend the 50th anniversary of the Coronation of Our Lady of Guadalupe, a devotion which is of particular moment in that country. The cardinal and his suite expected to visit several cities in that country and would be away about a month.

Li-Gow, J. C. Bowen expressed an especially hearty welcome to the cardinal and stated he was proud to have a Canadian and high priest in his country and would be proud to have a high priest in his country.

The lieutenant-governor paid tribute to the cardinal for encouraging a broadened outlook in Catholicism and in its attitude as it affected all Canadians. War had been a testing time for Canada and it was hardly to be expected that through six years of anxiety everything would go smoothly without "some small misunderstandings." Much of the success in overcoming them could be traced to the influence of His Eminence, said Mr. Bowen. The lieutenant-governor extended his congratulations to the two new bishops, Most Rev. Anthony Jordan, OMI, and Most Rev. Henry Rudolph, OMI, the latter of whom was the purpose of the cardinal's visit to Edmonton.

On behalf of the province, acting premier C. E. Gerhart extended an especial welcome to His Eminence and referred to a former occasion.

Li-Gow, J. C. Bowen expressed an especially hearty welcome to the cardinal and stated he was proud to have a Canadian and high priest in his country and would be proud to have a high priest in his country.

The lieutenant-governor paid tribute to the cardinal for encouraging a broadened outlook in Catholicism and in its attitude as it affected all Canadians. War had been a testing time for Canada and it was hardly to be expected that through six years of anxiety everything would go smoothly without "some small misunderstandings." Much of the success in overcoming them could be traced to the influence of His Eminence, said Mr. Bowen. The lieutenant-governor extended his congratulations to the two new bishops, Most Rev. Anthony Jordan, OMI, and Most Rev. Henry Rudolph, OMI, the latter of whom was the purpose of the cardinal's visit to Edmonton.

On behalf of the province, acting premier C. E. Gerhart extended an especial welcome to His Eminence and referred to a former occasion.

Jehovah Witnesses' Meeting Broken Up

CHATEAUGUAY BASIN, Que., Sept. 10.—(C.P.)—An outdoor Bible study of the Witnesses of Jehovah was broken up Sunday in this town. A crowd estimated at more than 100 men, women and children, many armed with clubs and sticks, gathered outside the church and broke up the meeting. Several Witnesses were arrested and taken to the local police station.

Witnesses were arrested on charges of distributing literature without a license and were released on $10 bail pending their arraignment in Chateaugay Court.

About 30 Witnesses from the Montreal East unit arrived here this morning in just about 25 half members in organizing the first of a series of three public outdoor meetings. Shortly after they began a five-hour study, giving a Bible lesson in each house. A crowd was started and 12 persons, including three women, were arrested and brought to the local police station.

Paul H. Chabot, a district organizer for the Witnesses, said he and others were forced into a taxi by men who were not police officers and who did not identify themselves.

Britain Against Any Discussion Atomic Control

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
In The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Sept. 18.—(UPI)—Great Britain took a firm stand today against any discussion of the future control of the atomic bomb at the Big Five council of foreign ministers opening here tomorrow.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia arrived in London today for the council established at Potsdam to set the course toward the final peace settlement, and maintain liaison among the United Nations powers.

Molotov arranged a pre-conference meeting with British foreign minister Ernest Bevin for tomorrow morning. Bevin was seeing George Bidault of France and Wang Shih-Wei of China later today. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was due at Southampton on the Queen Elizabeth in time for the first formal session of the conference tomorrow.

'SURPRISED' BY STORY
An official British spokesman received Byrnes' proposition to taking up the future of the atomic bomb at the conference. He expressed "surprise" at a London Star dispatch saying that Russia, France and China would be allowed to share the atomic secret when the council opened.

Bevin, the commentator said, has "suggested that it is a matter which appropriately falls to the United Nations organization."

There has been "no official suggestion," he added, that the subject of the atomic bomb, on which the future peace of the world may depend, be taken up by the foreign ministers.

The Star said a joint request for the secret of the bomb would come as a "prerequisite" to the conference. Byrnes, the newspaper said, will be asked for assurance that the bomb formula will not be given to any non-military group.

REGARDED GRAVELY
The gravity with which the atomic bomb is regarded as the conference convened was underlined today at the Trades Union Congress opening at Blackpool. E. J. Edwards, the general secretary of the National Union of Mine Workers, told the delegates:

"The atomic bomb changes the principle of the balance of power. How futile and illusory is the face of this in our old foreign policy."

"The change is forced upon us," and the Congress must consider what guidance it can offer to the state which movements are the problem of maintaining international security and enforcing peace."

Aside from the atomic bomb, a host of international problems are faced by the foreign ministers. The preliminary drafting of peace treaties, particularly for Italy, rated high on the program.
